Read this dialogue with your partner. What is the problem?

A: Do you like my new computer?

B: It is great, isn't it?

A: Well, I don't know. I have some problems and I don't understand why.

B: What problems?

A: Well, every time I open Google, some windows pop-up.

B: You obviously have some kind of virus. You have to check if you have anti-virus software on your computer.

A: I think I do. Do you think it's a big problem?

B: I can't say. It depends what virus it is. I hope you won't lose your files.

A: Don't even mention that.

B: Let us see together.
